The property

Listed Grade II and dating from the 17th century, Wold Cottage is a delightful, traditional thatched property full of charm and character. Extended over the years and more recently with a conservatory, the house retains many period features which include exposed beams, stone floors and fireplaces. The front door opens into the sitting room with inglenook fireplace. Off this room is a cosy snug, again with a fireplace. From the sitting room, steps lead up to large dining room with French doors that open into a conservatory, which has doors onto the garden terrace. Off the dining room is the fitted kitchen/breakfast room, and a separate cloakroom.

From the sitting room, stairs rise to a landing where there is a principal bedroom with en-suite bathroom and dressing room/bedroom 4. There are 2 further bedrooms, a family bathroom and walk in airing cupboard.

Outside

Wold Cottage has a pretty and well maintained garden which contains many mature shrubs, an area of lawn and well stocked borders which provide a variety of colour. To the rear of the house is a useful outbuilding providing excellent storage and a utility room.
