The property

4 Cowley Place is a well-presented two-bedroom apartment, set on the first floor of a sought-after Grade II listed property in Cowley, just to the north of Exeter and within easy reach of the city centre and local connections. The house itself dates from the late 18th century featuring highly attractive cream rendered elevations outside and a double-fronted façade. Originally built as a private residence, there is documented history of the main house and evidence of it being frequented by acclaimed artists Gainsborough and Francis Towne. It went on to become the regional headquarters for a national bank and the building was extended with the entire property divided into 14 apartments in the 1990's, 6 being in the original house. The country house's exterior is due to be repainted within the next 2 years.

The spacious sitting room features an open fireplace and a tall sash bay window that has a south-facing aspect providing a wealth of natural light and wonderful views. The kitchen is well equipped, with wooden fitted units to base and wall level, a breakfast bar, an integrated fridge/freezer, plus space for all the necessary appliances. The accommodation offers two double bedrooms with the principal bedroom benefitting from a dual aspect. The second bedroom is currently used as a dining room. The accommodation is completed by a bathroom with a separate bath and shower unit.

Outside

Cowley Place features stunning communal gardens and grounds, available exclusively for the private use of its residents. The grounds include well-maintained rolling parkland and woodland, with the River Creedy flowing along the boundary and merging with the Exe before it continues beyond Cowley Place to Exeter. There are pristine lawns running to the riverbank and paths meandering through the land, providing splendid walking routes, as well as various mature trees within the grounds, which extend to over 11 acres. The grounds also attract an abundance of wildlife. In addition, there are 550 yards of fishing rights on both the Exe and the Creedy. Further communal facilities include an indoor heated swimming pool, a wine cellar, a games room and a tennis court. There is an allocated parking space in the resident carpark, as well as a single garage for further parking or storage.

Location

The property is situated in the village of Cowley, just north of Exeter and on the edge of the beautiful Devon countryside. The village has a local pub and a large garden centre, while further amenities can be found in the nearby village of Newton St. Cyres, including a local shop, restaurants and a primary school. The property is well positioned with the national parks of Exmoor and Dartmoor within easy reach as well as the dramatic north and south Devon coastlines. Exeter is also easily accessible, with the city centre just two miles away providing an excellent choice of shops, leisure and cultural facilities. The city is boosted by the presence of the university and the medical school, while there are a number of excellent schools in the city. Exeter St. David's mainline station is just a mile and a half away, providing regular services to London, while the M5 is five and a half miles away. Exeter airport is just 7 miles away providing an ever-increasing number of flights to domestic and international destinations.
