The property

Howsham Hall is a magnificent Grade I listed country house, providing almost 30,000 square feet of stunning accommodation, in the peaceful North Yorkshire village of Howsham. The property dates from the 17th century and displays outstanding Jacobean Renaissance details and styling for Sir William Bamburgh, including handsome limestone columns, stone mullion windows, parapet roof detailing and various other handsome features. Currently run as a successful wedding venue, Howsham Hall provides an ideal opportunity for conversion into a boutique hotel or a wonderful family home, with its 15 bedrooms en-suite .

Inside, the accommodation retains much of its original character, as well as featuring stylish modern fittings and décor. There are 12 reception rooms, including the refined, elegant main drawing room with its columns, cornicing, fireplace, and breathtaking chandelier light fitting. Further reception rooms include the 41ft formal dining room, the palatial first-floor sitting room with its beautiful ceiling plasterwork, and two further generous drawing rooms. There is also a billiard/games room and a bar with a seating area, a small ballroom with a balcony all of which are ideal entertaining spaces.

There are two kitchens, the catering kitchen and storage area is located on the lower ground level, which includes a fully equipped kitchen, a large utility room and a preparation room with a walk-in larder. There is also a further utility room and various stores and cellars on the lower level, plus an additional kitchen on the ground floor. The kitchens include stylish modern fittings, including appliances by Miele. On the ground floor is an everyday family kitchen with a useful island and plenty of preparation space.

The 15 bedrooms are arranged across the three levels, including the luxury principal bedroom with its dressing room and opulent en-suite bathroom. This bedroom suite is thought to be one of the largest bedroom suites in Europe.

Each of the bedrooms features attractive styling and elegant details, including panelled walls, tall sash windows, fireplaces, and chandelier light fittings, while the en-suite bath and shower rooms have fittings of the highest quality.

Outside

The house is set in about 80 acres of magnificent rolling parkland, with lawns, meadows, and woodland, adjacent to the River Derwent. The long private driveway leads to the house and the gravel parking area in front, as well as to the rear, where there is further parking and services access via the central courtyard. The central courtyard provides access to the stores, kitchens, and workshop areas via an archway, and could also be used as an al fresco dining area if required. There is further gravel terracing at the side and rear of the house, providing space for al fresco dining beside the River Derwent.
