The property

Wisteria Cottage is a charming period home offering up to five bedrooms and beautifully appointed accommodation with several highly attractive original details. There are white rendered elevations outside, with climbing wisteria across the front of the cottage, while inside, the character details include exposed timber beams and handsome original fireplaces. The large entrance hall leads to a ground floor shower room and two main reception rooms at the front of the property. These include the 22ft dining room with tiled flooring, exposed beams and stone-built fireplace with fitted Rayburn, and the cosy sitting room which provides comfortable space in which to relax. The sitting room has wooden flooring and a painted brick fireplace, with original timber lintel and a woodburning stove. Towards the rear there is a family room, currently used as a playroom, and a conservatory opening onto the rear garden. The well-equipped kitchen has modern fitted units in white, wooden worktops, a butler's sink and an integrated oven and electric hob. The adjoining utility room provides storage and space for home appliances.

Upstairs, are four well-presented bedrooms, all with neutral décor, including the generous, dual-aspect principal bedroom with access to eaves storage. There is a study, which could serve as a fifth bedroom, plus a family bathroom with a roll-top bathtub.

Outside

At the front, the cottage opens onto Fore Street, where there is ample on-street parking. A private lane at the side provides access to the rear garden, where there is a patio seating area for al fresco dining and entertaining, as well as two stores adjoining the cottage. The detached outbuilding at the rear is currently used as a workshop and store. The garden includes a raised area of lawn with border fencing and beds with various established shrubs and flowering perennials, while at the end of the garden there is a gate leading to a shaded meadow with the River Ken running peacefully past.
