The property

Dating from the 19th century and converted in the early 1980s, Twitham Oast South is a substantial home that blends an industrial yet relaxed style in bright, open rooms whilst retaining period charm, creating a distinctive yet functional space for both living and entertaining. There are beautiful views from all parts of the house across uninterrupted open fields and woodland, imbuing a great sense of peace and tranquillity.

The accommodation flows from a part double-height reception hall with galleried landing over. To the right is the generous dining room, which has wood-lined walls and French doors opening to the terrace. Also accessed from the hall is a family bathroom.

The spacious dual aspect kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of wall and base units, completed by wooden work surfaces and splashbacks, and modern integrated appliances. There is space for a good-sized table. Three sets of French doors across both aspects lead to the garden. A fitted utility room has doors to both the rear aspect and to the integral garage.

On the first floor a generous galleried landing with useful storage gives access to an impressive 32 ft double height, vaulted sitting room; a fireplace with wood-burning stove sits to the far end, with steps to a mezzanine study over. Further, there are two dual aspect bedrooms, one set within the kiln with a notable vaulted ceiling, the other with wood-lined walls and a glazed door opening to a boarded Juliet-style balcony, a reminder of the oast's history and an ideal place to reflect and take in the beautiful surroundings. There is also a family bathroom.

The property's two remaining bedrooms can be found on the second floor, both with vaulted ceilings and the principal benefitting from an en suite bathroom. There is Velux glazing throughout this level, flooding both rooms with natural light.

Outside

The property is approached over a brick-paved drive, providing private parking and giving access to the integral garage. One is immediately aware of the special, serene setting where peace descends on arrival.

Evening light falls spectacularly on the front of Twitham Oast South, where the garden has been arranged as a variety of 'outdoor rooms', including a side garden set under the canopy of a mature tree providing a space to escape the summer heat, along with seating areas ideal for entertaining, relaxing and al fresco dining.
